Final Office Action

Acknowledgement is made of the response filed on 6/13/2005. Claims 1, 2, 4, and 5 are pending. No claim is allowed. Amendments are entered.

This application claims priority from 60/394932, filed on July 11, 2002.

Terminal disclaimer has been filed for U.S. Patent No. 6,521,628 and U.S. Patent No. 6,734,202 therefore double patenting rejection is withdrawn. DP rejection over US Patent 6,696,497 is maintained because no disclaimer was filed. Examiner notes, that Applicants are silent over this rejection.

Response to Arguments

Rejection of claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over CURTZE et al. (US Patent No. 6127570) is maintained because arguments are not found persuasive. The basis of arguments is that prior does not teach the use of one compound is not considered appropriate because the term "comprising" allows the addition of other ingredients.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 1616

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2, 4, and 5 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,696,497. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the US Patents cited above are considered obvious since the term "comprising" is used in the instant invention. The term "comprising" allows other additional components to be added. The instant claims differ from the claims of the cited US Patents in that these US Patents cite specific second components for the fungicidal composition. In the instant claims, a specific second ingredient has not been named. However, the term "comprising" allows a second ingredient to be added. Therefore, the instant invention is considered obvious over the claims of the cited US Patents.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 2, 4, and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over CURTZE et al. (US Patent No. 6127570). CURTZE et al. teaches fungicidal substituted 2-hydroxybenzophenone compounds, which embraces the presently claimed invention. See the entire document, especially lines 7-34 in col. 3, lines 23-64 in col. 4, the abstract, claims (especially claim 1), and examples.

Instant claims differ from the prior art in claiming a narrower scope of the prior art's invention.

One skilled in the art would have been motivated to prepare a method for controlling Pseudocercospora herpotrichoides in crop plants comprising applying to said crop plants an effective amount of benzophenones of the Formula I because the prior art teaches the control of fungus in crop plants through the use of benzophenone derivatives.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to prepare similar benzophenones to control any fungus in crop plants because CURTZE et al. teaches the control of fungus in crop plants through the use of benzophenone derivatives, as claimed.

In absence of any criticality and/or unexpected results, the presently claimed invention is considered prima facie obvious to one skilled in the art.

Art Unit: 1616

In the light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner's ultimate legal conclusion is that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
